eCLi6 HYBRID TRANSDUCER

The new, patent-pending eCLi6 transducer is hardwired to our latest IBEX PRONXT ultrasound machine and is a hybrid probe. The eCLi6 transducer is unlike anything you've seen before!

This unique rectal probe offers the resolution of a flat linear with the deeper penetration and wider field-of-view of a convex model. The short array and tight pitch optimize image quality, while the very slight curvature makes ideal contact with the mucosal surface in a minimal-height form factor.

Based on the overwhelmingly positive response since we started testing it last fall, this transducer is a game-changer for bovine reproduction. Outperforms any standard rectal probe for image clarity, arm-in or arm-free.
